About Tirth

Why Entrepreneurship?

I am passionate about combining technology and compassionate care to increase access to patient-centered, culturally competent, and affordable healthcare for individuals in transition (migrants and tourists). In entrepreneurship, the approach of identifying unsolved pressing problems through intense customer discovery, developing innovative solutions, and the limitless potential for growth and learning are what truly excite me about entrepreneurship.

Fun Fact

I am a podcaster and a great fan of Virat Kohli, an athlete cricketer.

Support Needed

Better understanding health clinic distribution/purchasing software and web/mobile application services for their patients, connections with people who have brought medical web/mobile application services to market, and gaining mentorship on how to “differentiate” ImmiHealth from what hospitals and other clinics can do.
